TIPPED OVER

A truck load of furniture which was being moved from Gibbon to a farm south of Curtis was tipped over a mile and a half east of town Tuesday morning. It was a bad wreck for the furniture as the load contained a fine piano and a number of fine pieces of furniture. It seems like he killed his engine going up a hill and his brake being no good the car started back and turned over. Some of the furniture was utterly ruined. Why in the world a man will start out with any kind of a car that is not equipped with a serviceable brake is more than comprehensible.—Curtis Enterprise.

SPINNING BUTTONS

Edwin Hart, nephew of Joe Henderson, while spinning a button on a string one day last week had the misfortune of having one of his eyes badly cut by the button breaking to pieces and a piece flying into the eye. He was taken to North Platte in order to use the x-ray to see if there might be a piece of the button still in the eye.—Paxton Times.
